

EMOTION EDUCATION: How to increase EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE

Joie Seldon breaks new ground with her innovative approach to teaching Emotional Intelligence. She delivers lively, compelling, information-packed presentations, imparting practical, real-world knowledge about emotions.

Thirty years of experience as a professional actor and acting teacher allows her to be truly present and spontaneous with her audience. She strikes the perfect balance between the seriousness of the subject and a light-hearted approach.

Joie also holds a Masters degree in Counseling Psychology and has a private practice in the Bay Area, in addition to teaching and lecturing on Emotional Intelligence.

Emotion Education provides tools to:

- Reduce stress
- Manage and reduce conflict
- Become an effective manager or leader
- Improve personal and professional relationships
- Move through procrastination and “stuckness”
- Manage difficult emotions, such as anger, sadness and fear
- Unleash creativity and innovation
- Increase productivity

Emotional Intelligence has four main components:

- Self Awareness
- Self Management
- Social Awareness
- Social & Relationship Management

It is easy to find lists of things that can be done to increase emotional intelligence, but not how to do them. This is what Emotion Education with Joie Seldon provides, the HOW of Emotional Intelligence.

“I loved the way Joie engaged the group from her opening words. The way she created an experience that transformed each person was unforgettable. The shift I personally experienced stayed with me long after her presentation was over.”

- Anne Sagendorph-Moon,
Founder, Beyond Business As Usual

“Joie’s presentation was down to earth, enlivening and refreshing.

-Cynthia Pastor, President.
Mt.Diablo EBCAMFT

“I’ve never seen anyone do what she’s doing. It was powerful.”

- Susan Danzig, Business Coach
